It was therefore necessary to customize them by hand painting nearly 800 Playmobils. Then, for the sake of historical research, the models were produced from lithographs to stick as closely as possible to reality. Thus, 23 different theatrical productions have been reconstructed.

Pila Canale is a small village in the Taravo valley, south of Ajaccio, postal code `20123`, village which, like many of them, could not resist the rural exodus for long.

As a kind of grace granted against oblivion, the idea sprouted to reconstitute the decor, the typical atmosphere of the village, in the city. The place has made an appointment with time: by the light of a lamp, around a traditional Corsican meal where we perpetuate a culinary heritage made up of simple recipes of our mothers and grandmothers, authentic flavors made with fresh local quality products. A joyous occasion of conviviality shared according to traditional songs, because Corsica is also kneaded of these rituals around the table, rich in its songs which are part of its culture.
